

Our lawful basis (reason) for processing your information

- You have given consent for the use.

The data being used includes special category (sensitive) data. Our legal reason for using this sensitive data is:

- You have given explicit consent to the processing.

What information do we collect about you?

- We collect your name and contact details to allow us to identify you and communicate with you about 'My Story'.
- We ask where you live (town of residence only) so that local press will pick up articles relevant to their area.
- The following will be included in any published 'My Story': your name, age, your photograph, the name of the course you are studying and your personal story / experience within Ayrshire College.
- Where you have agreed that we can share your 'My Story' on social media, we ask for your Twitter / Facebook / Instagram contact details so we can tag you in 'My Story' articles and photographs that you are featured in.

How do we collect it?

Your personal information (listed above) is collected when you agree to participate in 'My Story' and submit a written article/attend interview/photo session.

All personal information you submit for 'My Story' is entirely voluntary. You are under no obligation to take part and you will be asked to approve the article before it is published. 'My Story' will never be published without your consent.

If you were to withhold the information we require for this process, the consequences would be:

Nothing. Participation is entirely voluntary and there is no impact on your studies if you choose not to get involved.

Who do we share your information with?

- 'My Story' will be published on some or all of the following; the College's website, blog, marketing publications and on all social media accounts (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn, Sound cloud, You Tube).
- 'My Story' will be sent electronically to partners where relevant. Partners include organisations that participate in and/or support College projects and initiatives, and stakeholders who have an interest in promoting the College. Some examples include: College Development Network (CDN), The Scottish Funding Council (SFC), Local authorities (East Ayrshire Council, North Ayrshire Council, and South Ayrshire Council), Colleges Scotland and Skills Development Scotland (SDS) for the purpose of case studies.
- 'My Story' may be used in College news releases and editorials and sent to local and national press for wider publication.

Details of data transfers to any third countries or international organisations

Websites can be seen worldwide and not just in the UK. This means that your 'My Story' article and photograph would be in the public domain.

How do we look after your information and how long do we keep it for?

We will take all reasonable steps to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of information you give us.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

Your information will be kept for three years and then will be destroyed confidentially in line with the Marketing department's annual deletion schedule.

Automated decision making processes, including profiling.

We do not use any automated individual decision-making about you.

Your rights

Under the GDPR you have certain rights in relation to how the College manages and uses your personal information:

- The right to be informed (this is the Privacy Notice)
